ABOUT

As a second-year student pursuing a BCA with a focus on Programming background, I am excited to explore this dynamic field. Although I'm new to programming background, my passion for creating user-friendly websites fuels my desire to learn how data can drive effective decision-making. I'm committed to developing my skills and am eager to apply my knowledge in real-world situations. With a strong work ethic, I aim to contribute to innovative business strategies through programming languages like java,phythopn and look forward to collaborating with others in this data-driven world.
